Partnering with Seclore

The Seclore Partner Pulse Program gives our partners transparency into the best partner network on the planet. Our partners experience a high multiplier and high growth in Seclore because of the breadth of services they provide to customers, which provide additional drivers for partner revenue. Our partners can increase their value by wrapping services and software around our technology, providing better end-customer outcomes and leading to accelerators in their businesses. Partners realize accelerated value by engaging with us and developing software and services around our technology. We estimate that for every $1 of revenue we generate, our partners generate $5.90 from services and software integrated with our technology. As the market's opportunity for partner security services and software increases, the multiplier is expected to grow to $6.50 in 2025.

Seclore commits to ensuring an entirely transparent, predictable, and fair approach to our channel partners. Our commitment is to ensure we're never selling against our partners who are actively engaged in a sales cycle. Our promise is that our partners will always have a fair advantage in respect to their pricing. If Seclore discovers we are engaged in the same account as our partner (at any stage), we will co-sell with the partner using a Customer Acquisition Plan. Additionally, Support, Subscription Renewals, and new product sales will follow the original partner where opportunities were originally approved through Deal Registration.

Deal Registration

Exclusivity & Exceptions:

A deal that is approved by Seclore provides the registering Partner with exclusivity with the Seclore Rep's efforts for that end-user opportunity, subject to the following exceptions, under which Seclore, at its discretion, may deny, remove, or rescind Partner's deal registration opportunity and/or deal registration access:

- If the end-user requests that Seclore quote or bid on the opportunity;
- If the end-user has rejected the registering Partner's bid or quote;
- If the Partner is not actively working the deal (for example, by failing to respond to the end-user's or Seclore communications);
- If the Partner does not close the deal within 90 days, and no extension has been granted;
- If the Partner does not exclusively propose and exclusively bid Seclore products or services identified in its registration;
- If Seclore is under a legal or contractual obligation to quote or bid on the opportunity, or if failure to quote or bid on the opportunity could subject Seclore to legal liability;
- If the Partner is not able to fulfill the opportunity (for example, by failing to have sufficient credit available for the end-user opportunity); or
- If the end-user chooses to fulfill its bid requirements under a contract vehicle which is not held by the registering Partner, or in a manner that prevents the registering Partner from being able to fulfill such requirements (for example, due to socioeconomic set-asides, etc.)
- In a Public Tender the Deal Registration may be approved for up to three (3) Partners provided they meet all the criteria; in some countries, in accordance with local laws, no Deal Registration will be granted in Public Tenders
- Distributors must correctly provide both the Partner and end-user information when attempting to obtain a Deal Registration. Distributors may register a Deal only where Seclore products or services are to be resold to Partners.
- A Public Tender is issued only to a manufacturer (such as Seclore), calls for submissions only from manufacturers (such as Seclore), and/or excludes the partner community from submitting a bid.

Seclore beleives in complete transparency, predictability, and fair business practices and will protect the partner community and the work they perform. It's in everyone's best interest that we maintain the highest levels of integrity.

Frequently Asked Questions

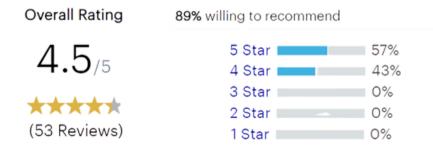

Why do I need Seclore in my portfolio?

Data will continue to be the increasingly valuable lifeblood of any organization. In order to protect this valuable asset, organizations must think differently about data protection. Rather than relying on the traditional boundaries of networks and devices, organizations must move the protection and control to the data itself. By embracing data as the new edge, organizations can create a boundary around their data that carries and maintains usage policies and security controls. Seclore is the world leader in data-centric security and has helped over 1,000 companies across a wide range of the most sensitive industries (financial services, manufacturing, public sector, telecom, etc.) successfully transition to this new model. By implementing new concepts pioneered by Seclore, these companies have protected their data, achieved regulatory compliance, and eased collaboration friction without fear. If you're ready to start now and take steps to make your data security independent of your infrastructure security, contact our team for more information.

Why do customers prefer Seclore over your competitors?

By leveraging innovative technology augmented with deep security and extensibility of the platform, Seclore delivers a comprehensive data security solution. Enabling organizations to confidently collaborate with even highly confidential data with the knowledge that their data can only be accessed by the parties they have designated is not easy. Seclore's platform delivers extensibility which means that a system can be extended, adapted, or improved without fundamentally changing the way our customers operate today. Beyond ease of use, Seclore stands above others given its flexibility of deployment methods (On premises, hybrid cloud, and AWS), extensive integrations, and support for our customers that has led to one of the highest retention rates across any technology.

Frequently Asked Questions

Isn't data encryption enough?

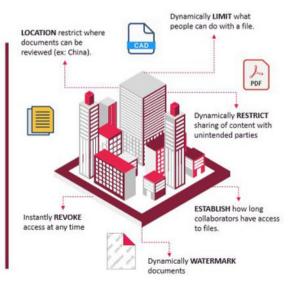

No. Not even close. Data encryption has long been seen as a proven means for protecting vital data, but it is increasingly clear that this approach alone has limitations. Encryption can be incredibly complicated for the average knowledge worker. Even the smallest mistake can have disastrous consequences. For example, if encryption keys are misplaced or forgotten, the data could be lost forever. On its own, encryption is a blunt instrument that often adds unnecessary hurdles to the flow of data.

What about DLP & CASB solutions? Why do I need Seclore?

Reactive controls, such as data loss prevention (DLP) and cloud access security brokers (CASB), can also be useful for protecting data. Important to note that Seclore can leverage these investments to improve their efficacy while also extending policies beyond where these typically stop providing protection to the organization. As your data moves beyond the edge of your network, that data also moves beyond your control. This creates a widening security gap between the perimeter-based methodologies of endpoint protection tools, network defenses, and cloud security solutions. This "data security gap" means that your data is at risk from data theft, IP theft, ransomware, and insider threats. From the compliance perspective, the risk of regulatory non-compliance includes fines, penalties and other fees alongside business disruption and reputational damage. The data security gap thus has far broader implications than opening up your organization to cyber threats. You need a data security solution that's designed to streamline compliance as well as ensure protection from threat actors.

What are some common use cases of Seclore?

- Ensure data security and trackability of customer PII in Cloud repositories and applications to achieve compliance with data privacy regulations.
- Securing emails with customer PII & Confidential attachments received from external networks to safeguard against legal liabilities and comply with data privacy regulations
- Secure collaboration Client PII (credit score and history) while collaborating with internal teams, credit agencies
- Protecting Intellectual Property (tools, fabrication drawings, serv manuals) while serving customers in an air-gapped environment.
- Ensuring sensitive docs adhere to ITAR compliance. Maintaining visibility and control over files shared externally. [CMMC]
- Controlling access to internal files uploaded to Box/Dropbox/SharePoint. Full audit trail.
- Persistent and dynamic protection track, controls, and block access even after data is shared

This program incorporates deal registration that is designed to protect the partner's presales investment and enable them to focus on value delivery to win the opportunity.
